SAFETY MARGIN LINE

(anything that you don't want cut to risk cutting off must be inside this line)

CUT LINE

(this is where your finished product will be cut)

BLEED LINE

The diagram illustrates the layout for a business card. It features a central white area with rounded corners, surrounded by a light gray border. A red dashed line, representing the safety margin, is set in from the edges of the white area. A blue solid line, representing the cut line, follows the outer edge of the white area. A green dashed line, representing the bleed line, is further out, creating a gray border. Text labels and leader lines identify each of these boundaries.
